

FRITZ HANSEN

PKO A™
PRODUCT FACT SHEET

PKO A™

The PKO A™ by Poul Kjærholm was originally designed in 1952 at the beginning of the Danish designer's tenure at Fritz Hansen. The chair's ribbon-like form pushed wood-bending techniques of the time to their limits, challenging conventional chair forms. The sculptural design is reissued in Oregon pine or black coloured ash and fitted with cinnabar red fixtures to contrast the wood. Beautiful from all angles, the PKO A™ profiles Kjærholm's visionary approach, standing at the intersection of art and design.

DESIGNER / YEAR OF DESIGN

DESIGNER

Poul Kjærholm was a trained cabinet maker and continued his studies at the Danish School of Arts and Crafts in Copenhagen. He had a particular interest in different construction materials, especially steel, which he considered a natural material with the same artistic fineness as other natural materials.

Poul Kjærholm was first employed at Fritz Hansen for about a year, where he designed a number of noteworthy chair prototypes. In 1955, Poul Kjærholm initiated his collaboration with manufacturer Ejvind Kold Christensen, which lasted until Kjærholm's death in 1980. In 1982, Fritz Hansen took over the manufacture and sales of "The Kjærholm Collection", which was developed over the period 1951 to 1967.
