Rugs

HAY's rug collection is designed to complement any floor area – both aesthetically and functionally – by combining textures and nuances to give the rugs unique character. Covering a full palette of colours – from subtle nuances and two-toned hues, to clean colours and bright patterns, our rugs are crafted in natural and durable materials like wool, cotton and jute.

Whatever the intended purpose – adding underfoot warmth, injecting a subtle accent of colour or serving as an eye-catching statement – HAY's timeless rugs offer infinite design possibilities that will complement any interior space for many years to come.

Braided Rug

Design by Clara von Zweigbergk

The result of Clara von Zweigbergk's exploration with braiding, crocheting and weaving techniques, the Braided Rug is a colourful handmade rug that binds braided yarn together with a contrast thread to create vibrant fragments of colour.

Made in a soft, durable blend of New Zealand wool and organic cotton, it is available in different designs that bring timeless style and underfoot warmth to most interior spaces.

Flat Works

Design by Ethan Cook

Inspired by his decorative woven wall art, Ethan Cook's Flat Works is a series of handwoven kelim rugs designed for HAY. Featuring a geometric abstract design, the rugs translate the designer's bold colour-blocked artwork into practical and decorative items.

Crafted in a New Zealand wool-cotton blend, the dyeing and weaving processes mean that each rug varies slightly, giving them a unique, one-of-a-kind quality. Available in different sizes and colour combinations, the rugs are suitable for use in the bedroom, hallway, living room and many other interior spaces.

Tapis

Flat-woven from a blend of natural jute and cotton, Julie Richoz' Tapis Rug creates a distinctly raw and elegant expression that is reinforced by its handcrafted appearance. The rug features a non-slip backing that preserves the shape and minimises the rug's movement, and is available in different sizes with a variety of colour options.
